

Transforming Silwood Estate

London Sport partner, Play Innovation have launched their latest interactive game, with the aim of maximising the opportunities for activity.

The Silwood Estate has recently undergone a MUGA refurbishment, with the help of a partnership between ball court specialists Play Innovation and L&Q Housing Trust.

As part of the project, Play Innovation 'accessorised' the fencing with their educational target games, basketball combi goals and a brand new product, 'Corner Skills' which is designed to activate empty corners with Noughts & Crosses and Cricket inspired games.

Corner Skills is a product of founder, Marco Boi's childhood.

”

"Corner Skills has literally been in the 'corner' of my mind for many, many years. As kids and then as teenagers, my brother and I constantly played ball games outdoors and indoors (much to our mother's annoyance), always looking for a nook and cranny to use as a makeshift target goal before being told to move on."

In partnership with

