London Sport is tendering for community engagement on behalf of the Brent Physical Activity Partnership.

About London Sport

- London Sport is a charity that exists to help all Londoners live longer, healthier and happier lives through being active.
- Our focus is on children and adults in the most deprived communities who face the greatest challenges of inequality.
- With physical inactivity responsible for 1 in 6 premature deaths, we want to help every Londoner find their way to move more.
- We are supported by Sport England and the Mayor of London, and collaborate with London's local authorities and other organisations, to provide better access to sport and physical activity across the capital.

Our requirements

- The purpose of this Tender is to procure an agency for qualitative community engagement research across Brent.
- Community engagement will help the places to understand the barriers and challenges residents of Brent face in being physically active and the opportunities to support residents to increase their physical activity levels.
- The agency will produce a presentation and report containing themes and learnings from qualitative research for Brent, covering the barriers, opportunities, behaviours, and interventions local residents would be likely to use within their respective place around physical activity.
- The agency will be responsible for the methodology design and upskill the Brent Physical Activity Partnership in how to conduct qualitative community engagement research. The commissioned agency will be responsible for analysing the consultation findings and writing the research reports.

London Sport is committed to equal opportunities, safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people, and expects the successful applicant to share this commitment.

Candidates are asked to submit an application outlining how they meet the criteria as detailed in the Tender Specification. This is what the scoring matrix will be based on for the applications.
